Humans are juxtaposed
puzzles. Different pieces,
physical and metaphysical,
arranged in different ways.

Some of us share these fragments of self as we cross parallel paths.

Imagine, in the moments of greatest adversity, as you walk a lonely dark path.

This same path has footprints, it has remnants of past survivors and the scent of the fallen. Others are walking as you do; none can see the other.

This collection is dedicated to my mother who taught me
that within my core, lies the strength and the tenderness. The survivor who made sure I survive. To the friends who found a way to cultivate light within darkness. To my beloved fallen, you are far yet present.

0.1 IS A STORY-BASED COLLECTION, ORIGINATED FROM HUMAN INWARDS. 0.1 FEATURES COMING OF AGE, FAMILY, AND MENTAL ILLNESS INHERETENCE.

The title is a reference to a point early in life, a point before wholeness. In 0.1 we witness as SELF is being introduced to a new side of life, and how they cope against these events.

The internal dialogue
separated and externalized into manifestations of character, textile, and silhouettes.

Having a passion for creating textiles in challenging ways is the greatest companion to my aesthetic. A vessel carrying the complexity as well as offering a visually interesting exterior, creating multiple options for the viewer.

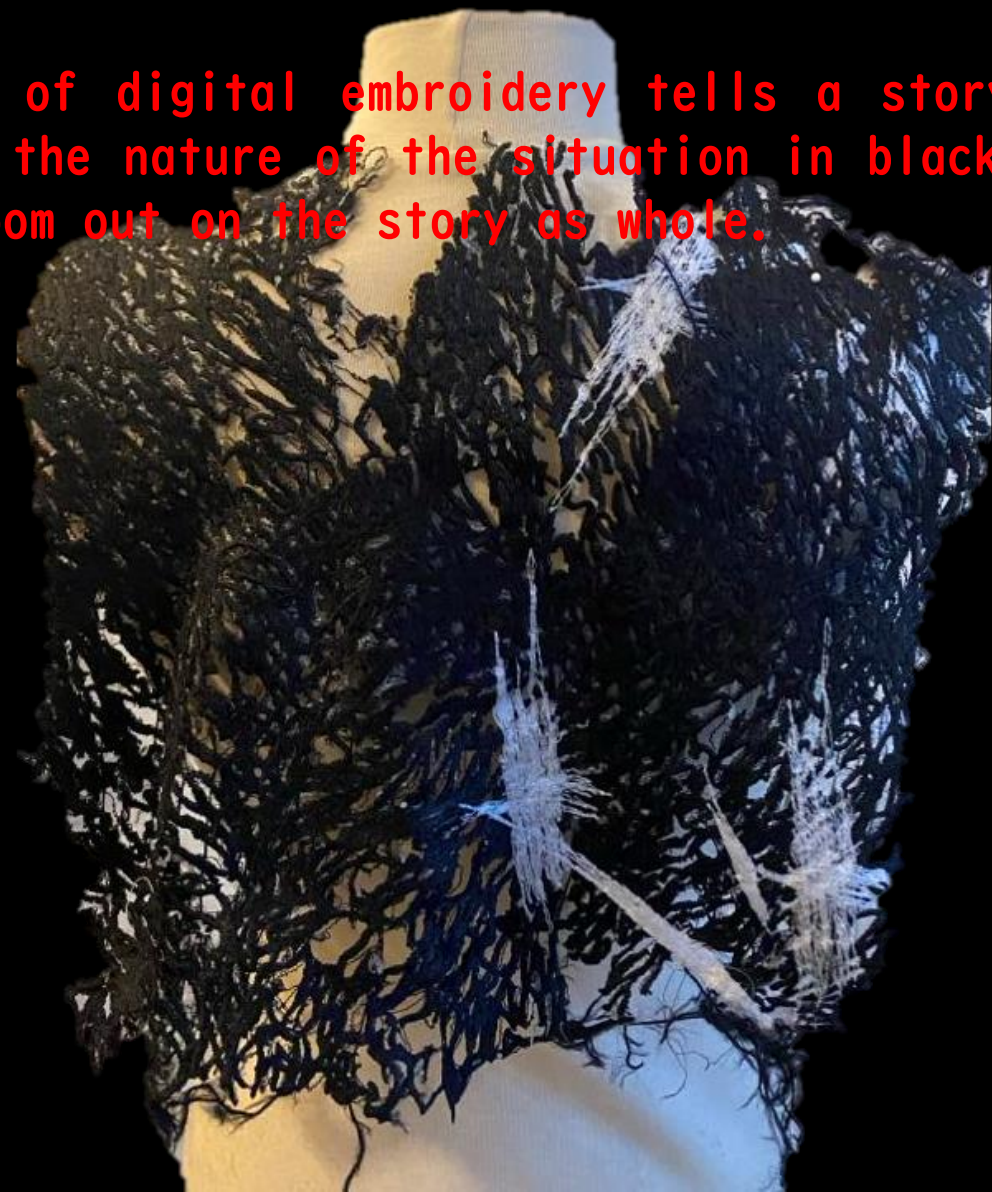

For my collection, I created a range of textiles using digital embroidery, household machine, and handwork.

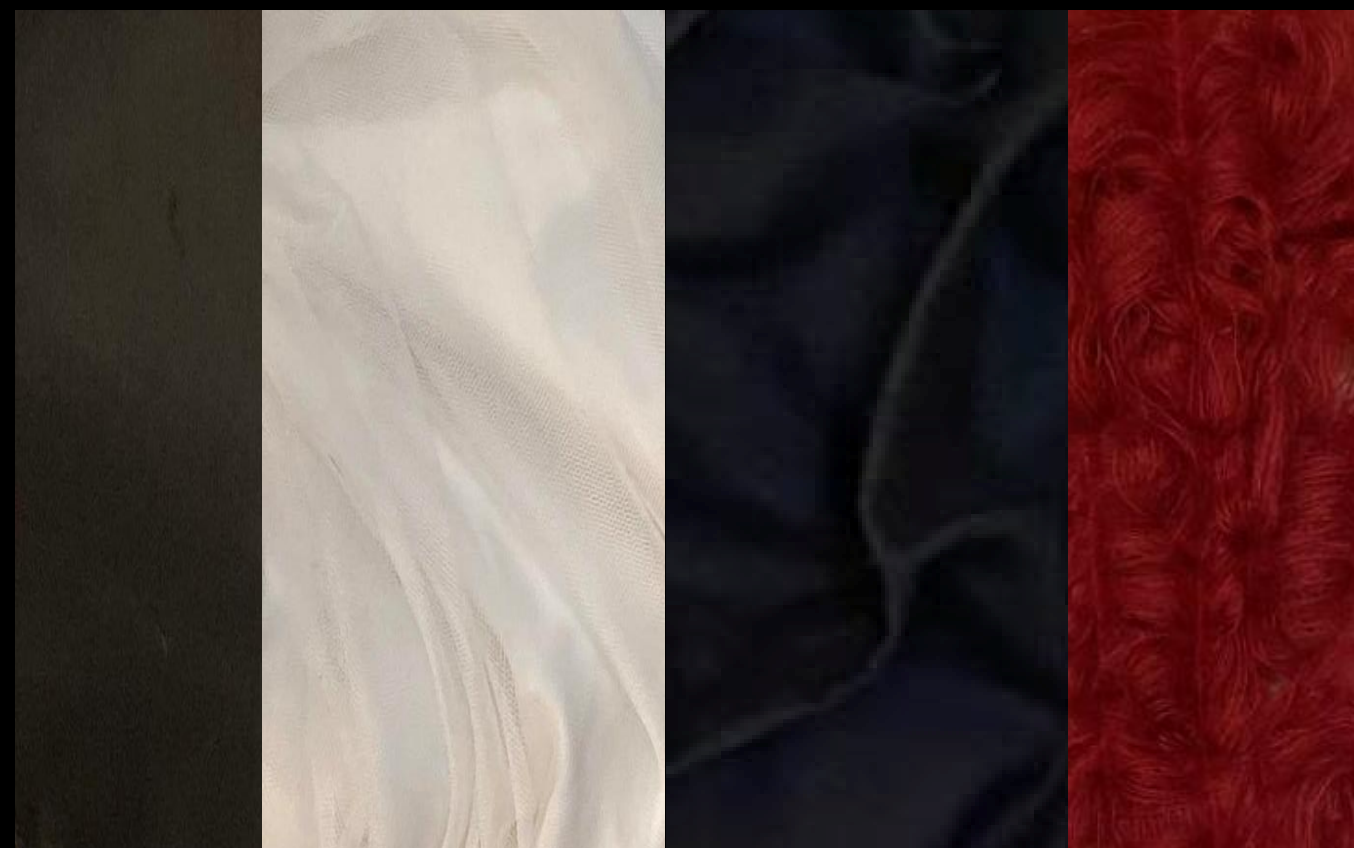

Just like our world, machines have very rigid limitations. Without conscious or heart, they create borders. We talk about the uprising of machines, but the uprising of machines is just the other side of the fall of man. In many communities we adopt extreme individualism, boxing others, rationalizing love, and denying other feelings that don't align with the consensus of what's acceptable.

I carry the urge to defy this establishment, I am on a mission to deny all limitations their authority.

I disrupt the machines through pushing these assigned purposes, stopping them at untimely spots and ordering them to create a different path with a contrast color. Working with no underlay present works that stand unique, denying both control and credit of the machine, and reaffirming the role of the human complexity even in the process of tangible creation.

The patches of digital embroidery tell a story about the terrain and the nature of the situation in black and white. It is the zoom out on the story as whole.

WHITE is used to pin-point innocence and embracing new life.

MILITARY GREEN is used to enforce the element of assignment, being ordered, lesser consideration of one as free.

BLACK - MIDNIGHT is used in different forms. First, in thick wool, enforcing a strong solid exterior. Creating shadows accenting the folds, transforming silhouettes details into more dramatic, inciting an element of fear.

Second in the form of softer wool, showing a younger version of the previous version. Less evolved, less rigid.

Third, in the form of mohair lace, has contrast between the tiny fragile hair and the chain-stitch at its center. Showing a very preliminary form of the closed fabric, in a more tender, and fragile.

RED ACCENTS are used to highlight placements and role of secondary consequences. Elements of struggle.

SELF comes into life

SELF is born. He is wandering into space, confused,
carrying hopeful
wandering eyes,
searching.

SELF is embracing a top created from a bridal gown. A cloth taken out of an unachieved happiness. Keeping with a hint of a bridal celebratory folds in the top part, it fades into delicate sheets of tulle gently encasing his torso, splitting just above his exposed spine. How fragile is new life.

Born into duty, ever so early. With a similar cloth to VOID-MASCULINE, in an inferior color.

The pants were hand-printed, firstly with a layer of bleach, there is no place for wholeness. Afterwards, the traces were accented with red ink, followed by sharp distressed embroidery.

The position of the art-work on the pants is in a nonfatal wound spot. The pants patter is created to be bowed, further enforcing an infantile reference.

VOID - MASCULINE

A dark hooded man walk aggressively by SELF. He looks at him in disappoint as SELF trying to grasp to his creator.

VOID - MASCULINE. The upper part is created from a single sheet of fabric. It was not at any point split into multiple pieces. Cut through and wounded, to create the distinct male corset in the torso, Discipline and strength on the outside, poor on the inside. Enforced by a golden zipper. At the shoulders and beyond, the folds and swirls, extreme and violent, convoluting the thoughts, juxtaposed with the need to keep shape, no room to express. While the mohair is visibly absent, sly stitching that includes it keeps the folds together. The reason to insanity, the other side of vulnerability. The chest is tied onto duty. A slender cut in the hood, through comes a sad pale eye of steel. Remnants of dried-up wounds at the side and covering the genitals, a remainder, the cost of vulnerability, the cost of giving life. expressed in cross-stitch. Underneath the skirt, glimpse of white flowing silk, fraying, fading, dying.

VOID - FEMININE

With a slender body, and time-stopping beauty, she walks in. Torn by sacrifice, recruited into heroism and loss.

THE CROWN JEWEL, THE GUARDIAN OF THE THRONE. YOU CAST ASIDE
ALL YOUR DREAMS TO BUILD AN EMPIRE. MANY DAGGERS IN YOUR BACK, MANY THORNS TRYING TO ENVELOP YOU. YOU HOLD THEM, WEAVE THEM, INTO A NEST.
HAUNTED BY A MEMORY OF A LIFE
THAT SLIPPED SO CRUELLY
BETWEEN YOUR FINGERS. HOPES TURNED INTO LIES. DREAMS INTO NIGHTMARES. YET, YOUR CASTLE
STANDS STRONGER THAN A THOUSAND STRONGHOLD. MY QUEEN, YOUR FEATHERS COVERS
MY WINGS. YOUR DREAMS DIE,
ONLY TO BE REVIVED ANOTHER.
LIGHT AND DARKNESS SHALL PAVE
A PATH, FOR ONE CANNOT EXIST
WITHOUT THE OTHER.

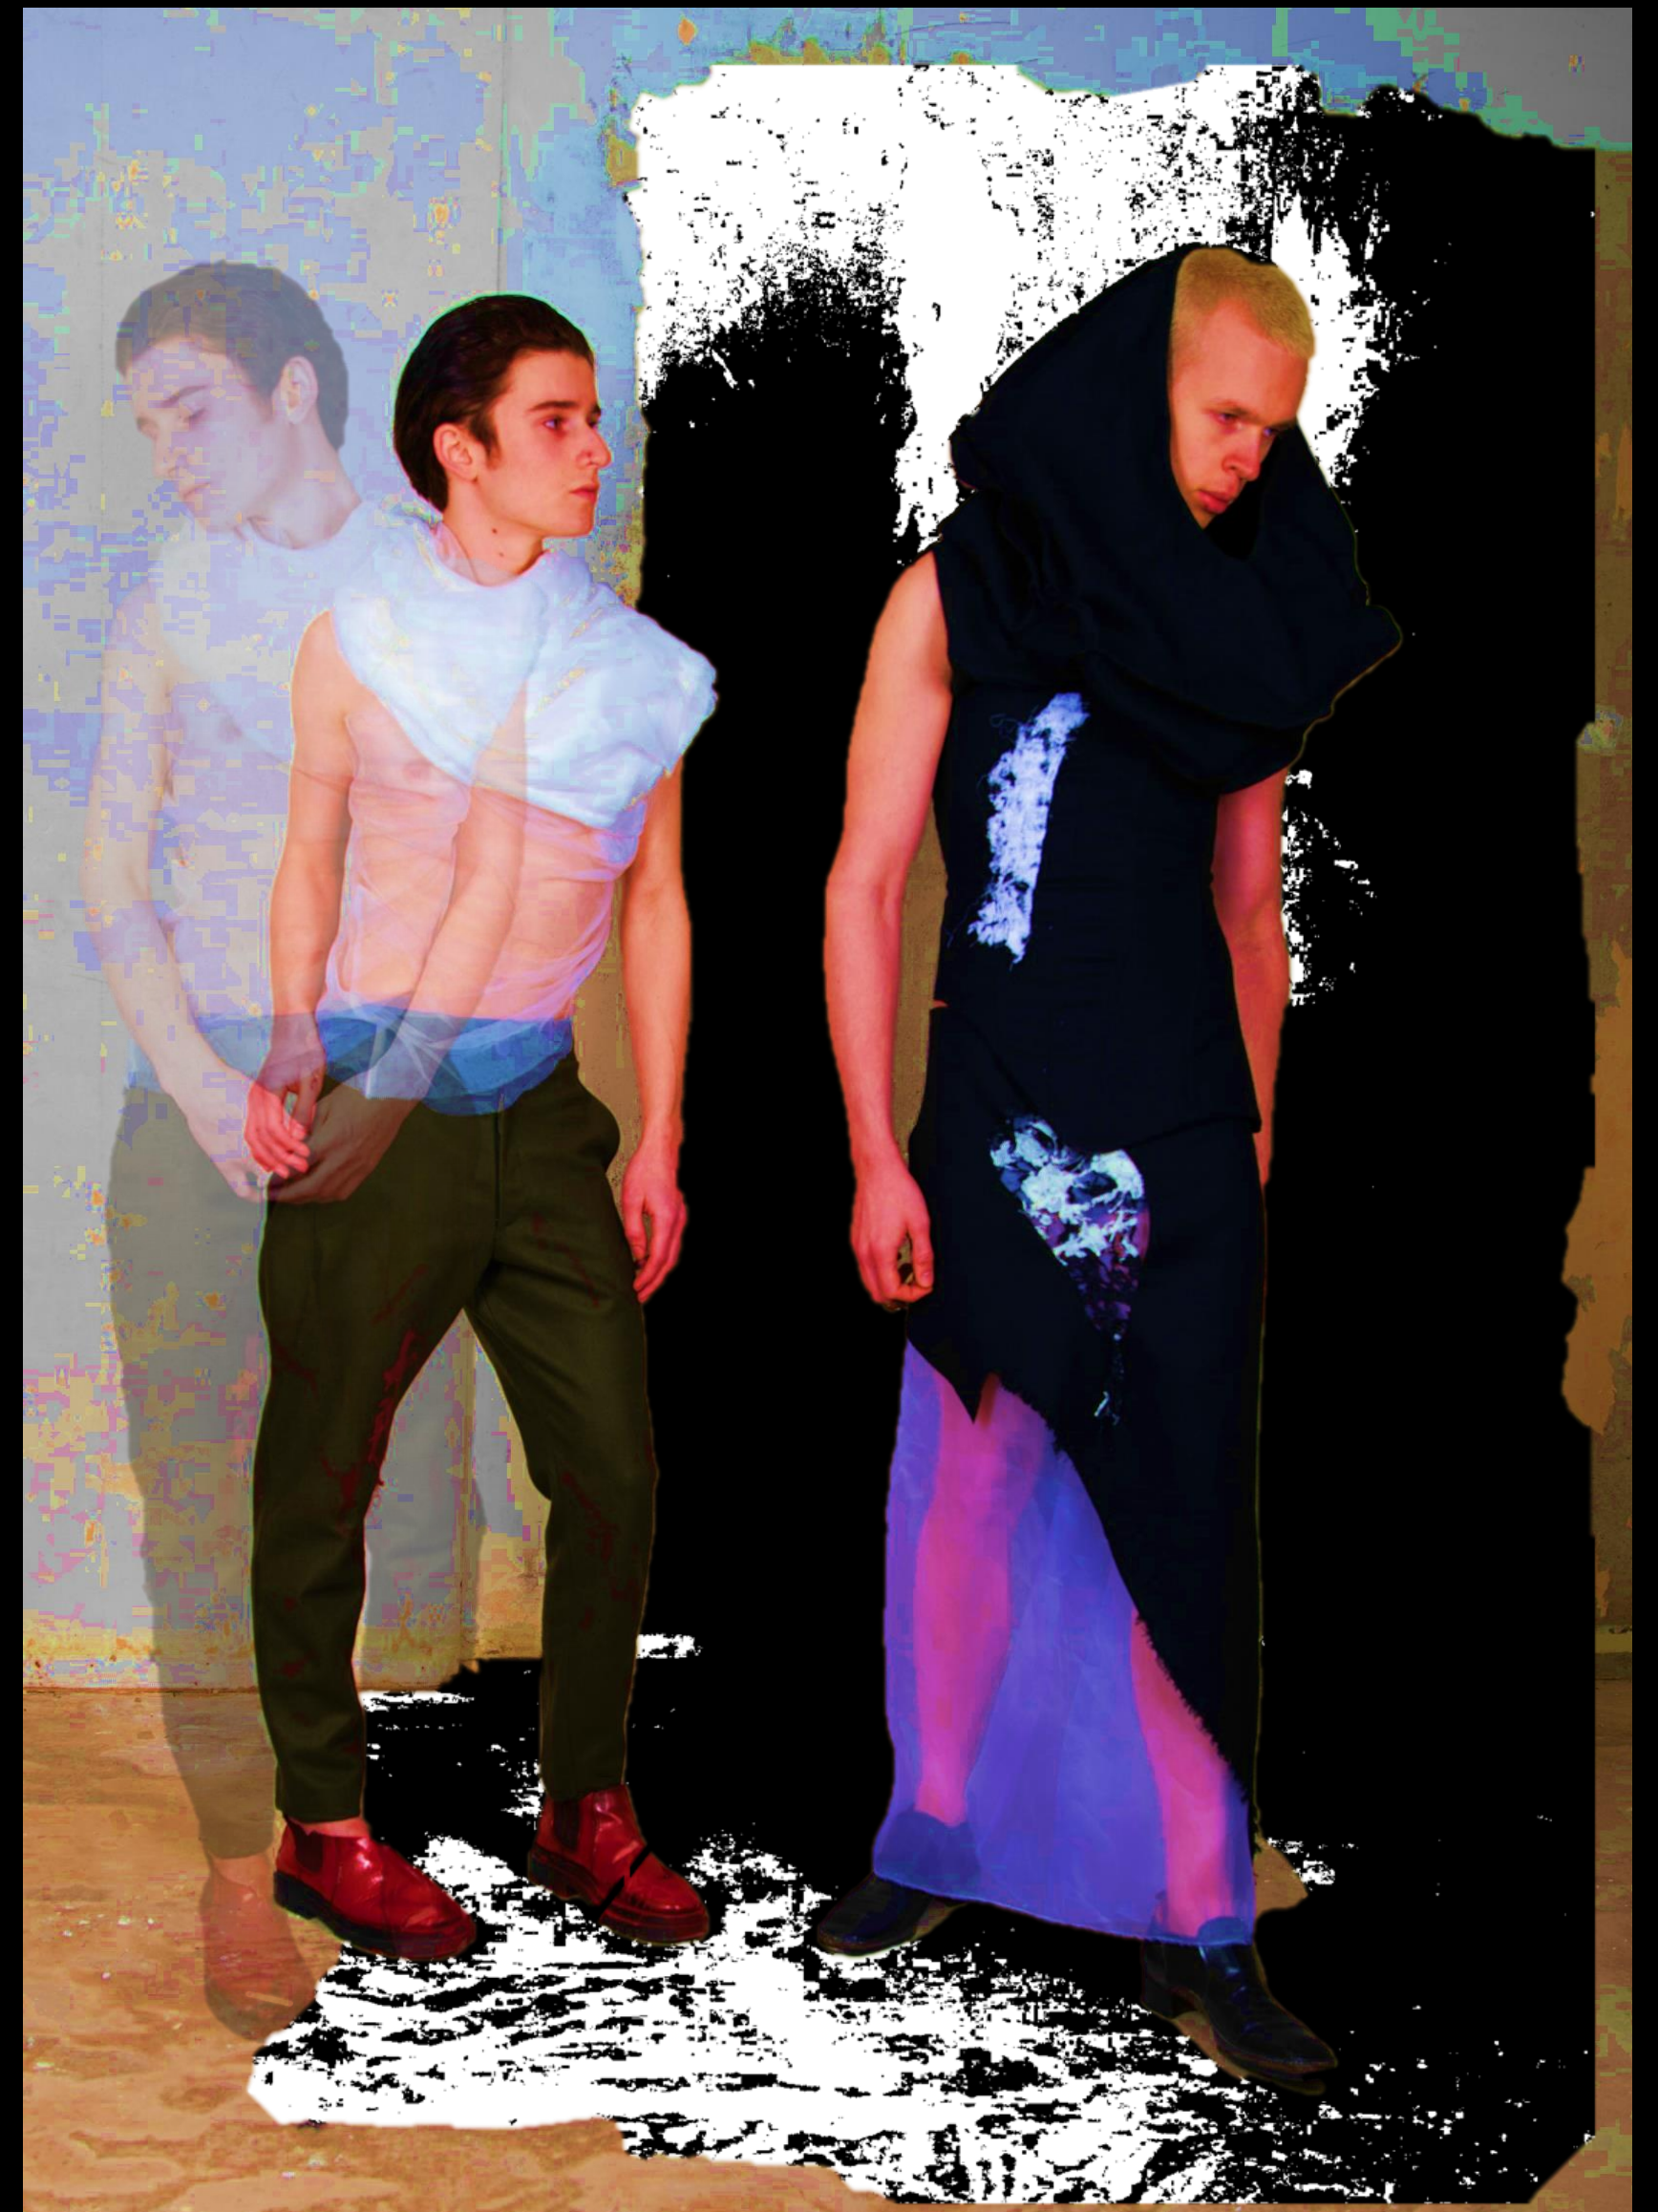

VOID - THE FEMININE. The front part is created from two opposing collars. Dignified and sharp. Closed tightly at the neck by a pin created from a dead bird's leg. Crowned by a jewel. The shape shows unclear symmetry, it is an emphasis on a strong exterior and survival. It is consumed into the back panel, showing the mohair entangled strongly. The vulnerability is present in the background, growing, becoming free, having a mind of its own, detaching itself from the duty. The back panel is creating by placing groups of lace mohair onto a soluble background, sculpturing it gently into shape. Strokes of white throbbing through. Is light the creator of darkness? What is the role of this delicate structure of traumatized entangled threads in maintaining the light in place?

The pants are my version of the female military-inspired bottoms. Black and white fade into herringbone, the need to survival is where both forces are merged for a unified goal.

VOID - MASCULINE denies SELF the presence, torn by loss and ordered by duty, SELF exits in search for answers. In SELF' s traces, VOID - FEMININE walks through, mourning the absence. Wondering about the cost, and the consequence, as she glimpses into a far shade walking into the horizon.

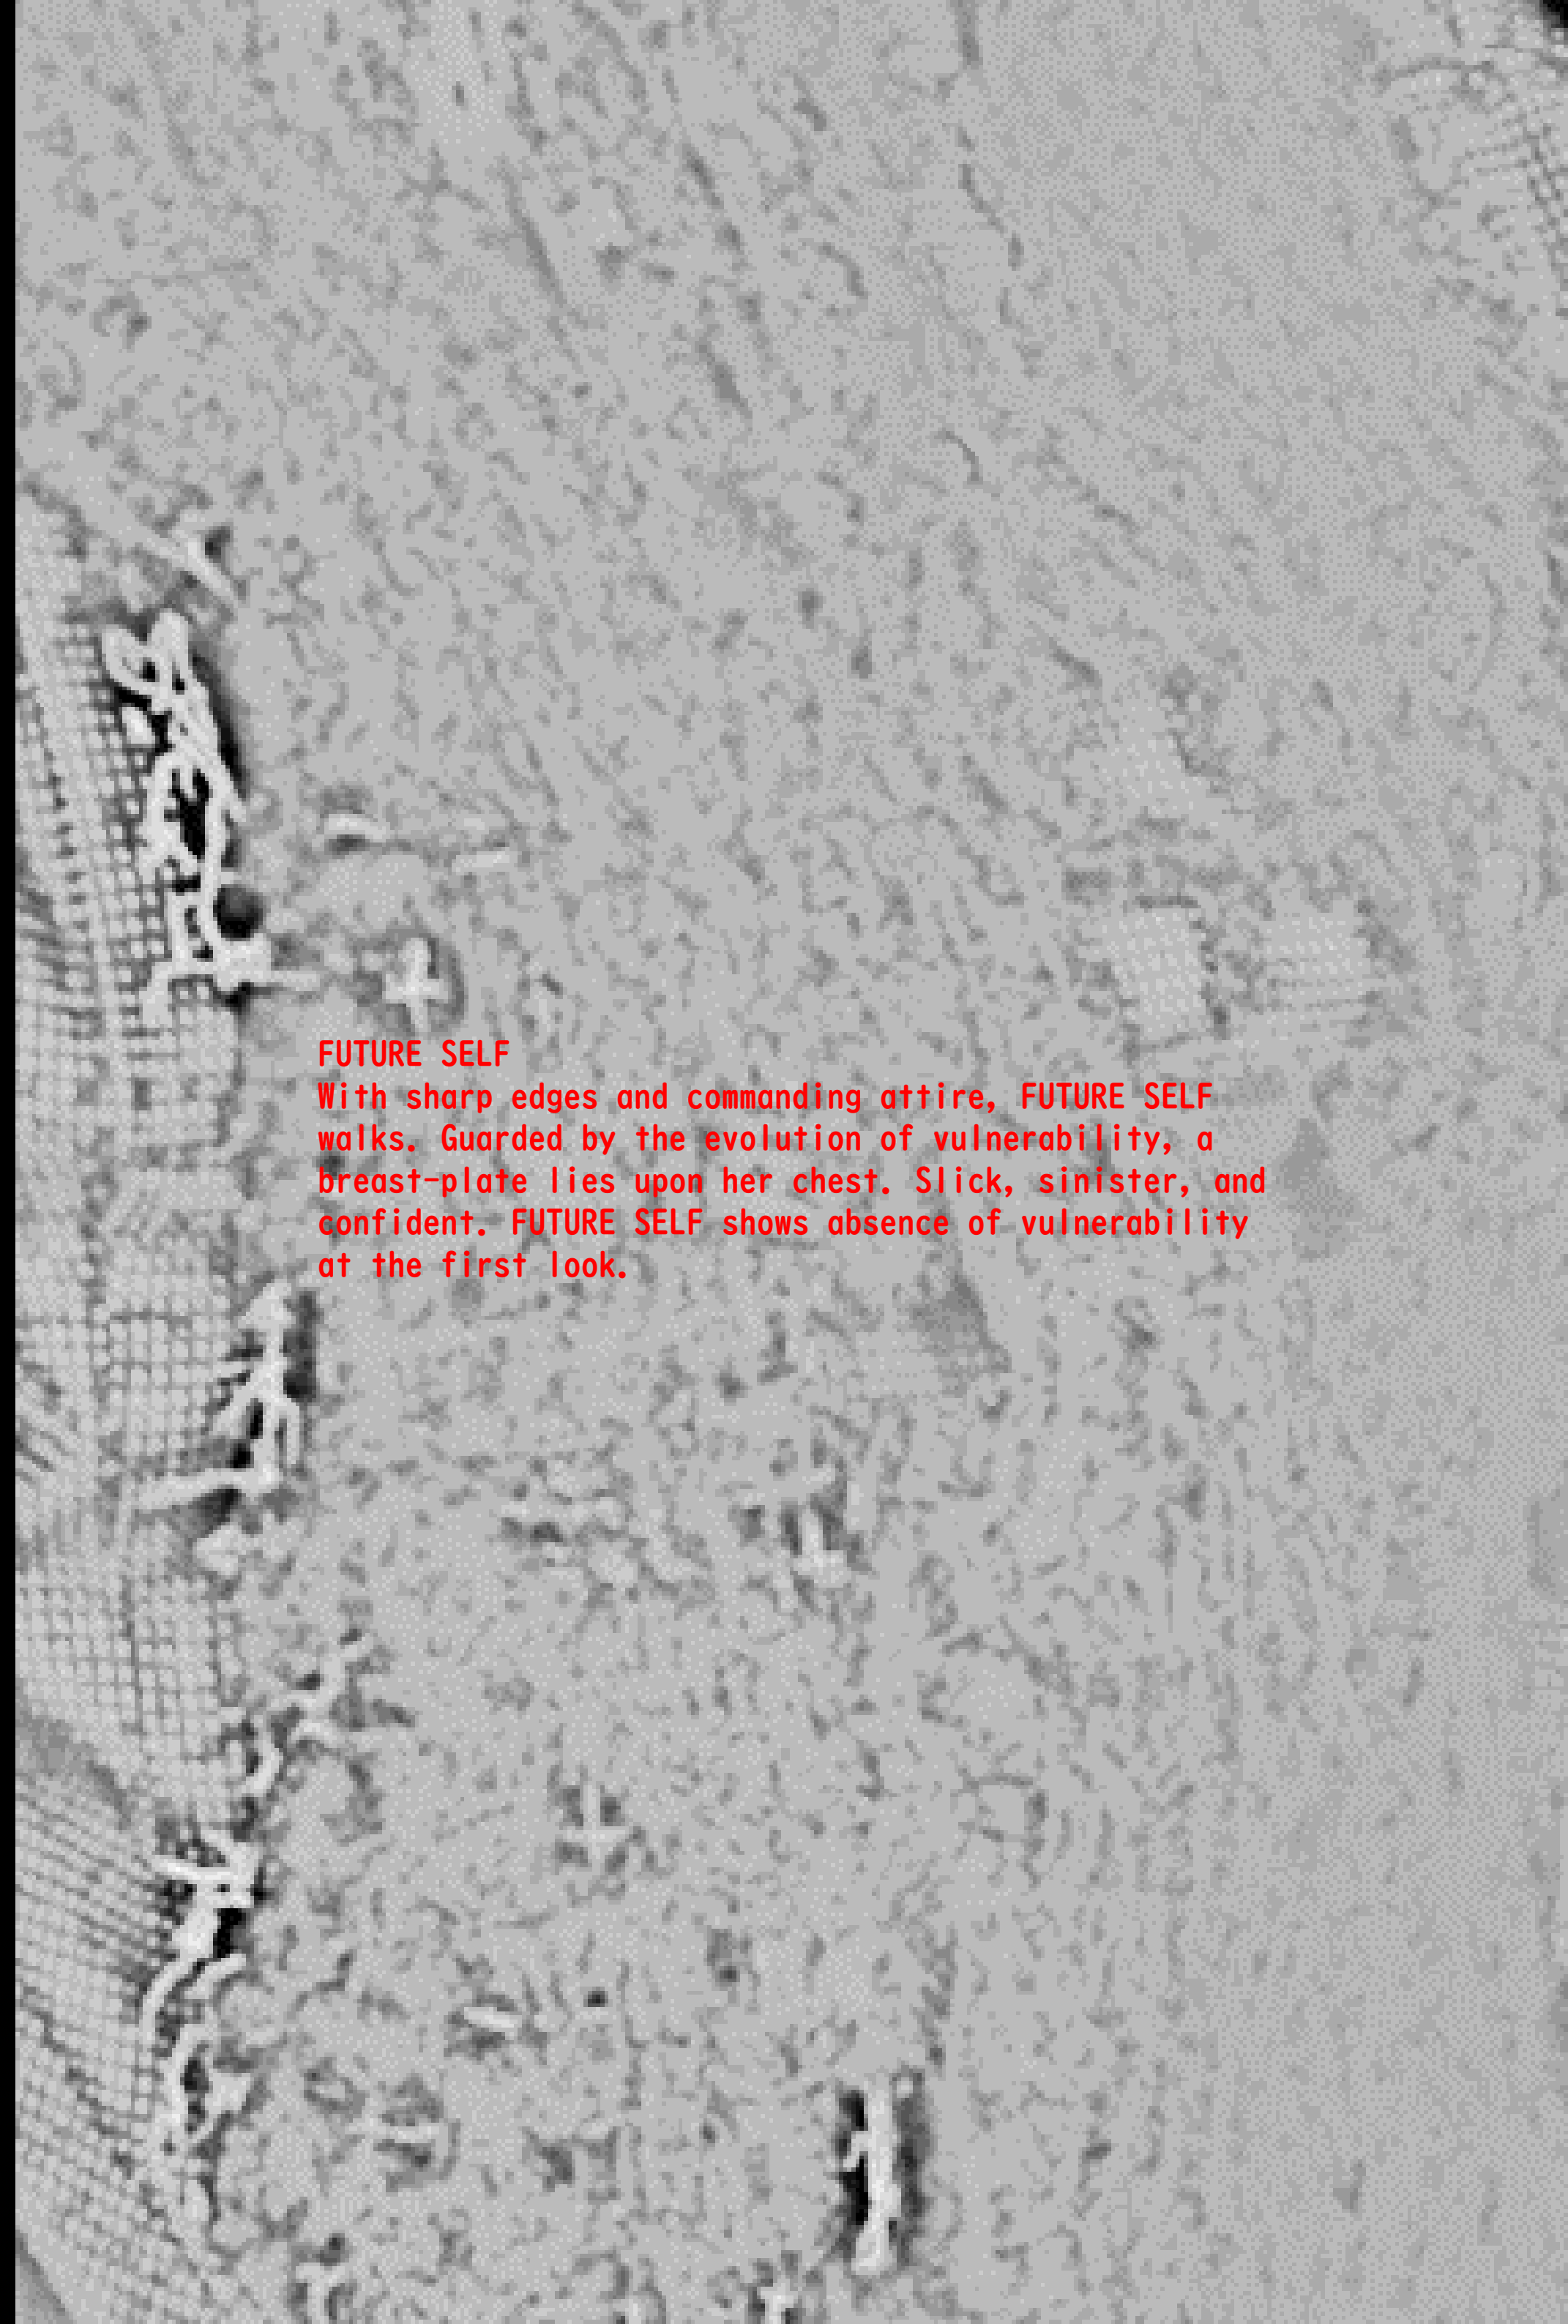

FUTURE SELF

With sharp edges and commanding attire, FUTURE SELF walks. Guarded by the evolution of vulnerability, a breast-plate lies upon her chest. Slick, sinister, and confident. FUTURE SELF shows absence of vulnerability at the first look.

FUTURE SELF attire is a classical silk shirt, with extreme sharp collar. The shirt panels are swapped, absence of openings in the front enforces the breast plate exterior even further with a closed neck.

The embroidery breastplate is created from a mix of metal and silk embroidery threads. The pieces is created by digital embroidery machine. During the process, the machine was stopped right before the repeat to create a different enforcing stitch back and force, covering some parts of the previous work and disorienting the terrain for the next. This effect is used to imply the complexity of reason, the lack of unified glamour. The embroidery process took a total duration of 36 hours of machine work.

As a closer look is taken, traces of white is shy and hiding on the side, there were places only on the final portion of the work in a cross layout by hand. This is used to reference the role of the innocence in this form, we see it peaking out, to notice that white threads are woven into the entirety of the shirt material. The innocence has an integral part in the structure, however, not visibly. The visible is the ability to monetize strength expressed in the business inspired attire, rather than the previous military characters. Survival in the shape of using the darkness to favor and weaving the light below the eyes of the enemies.

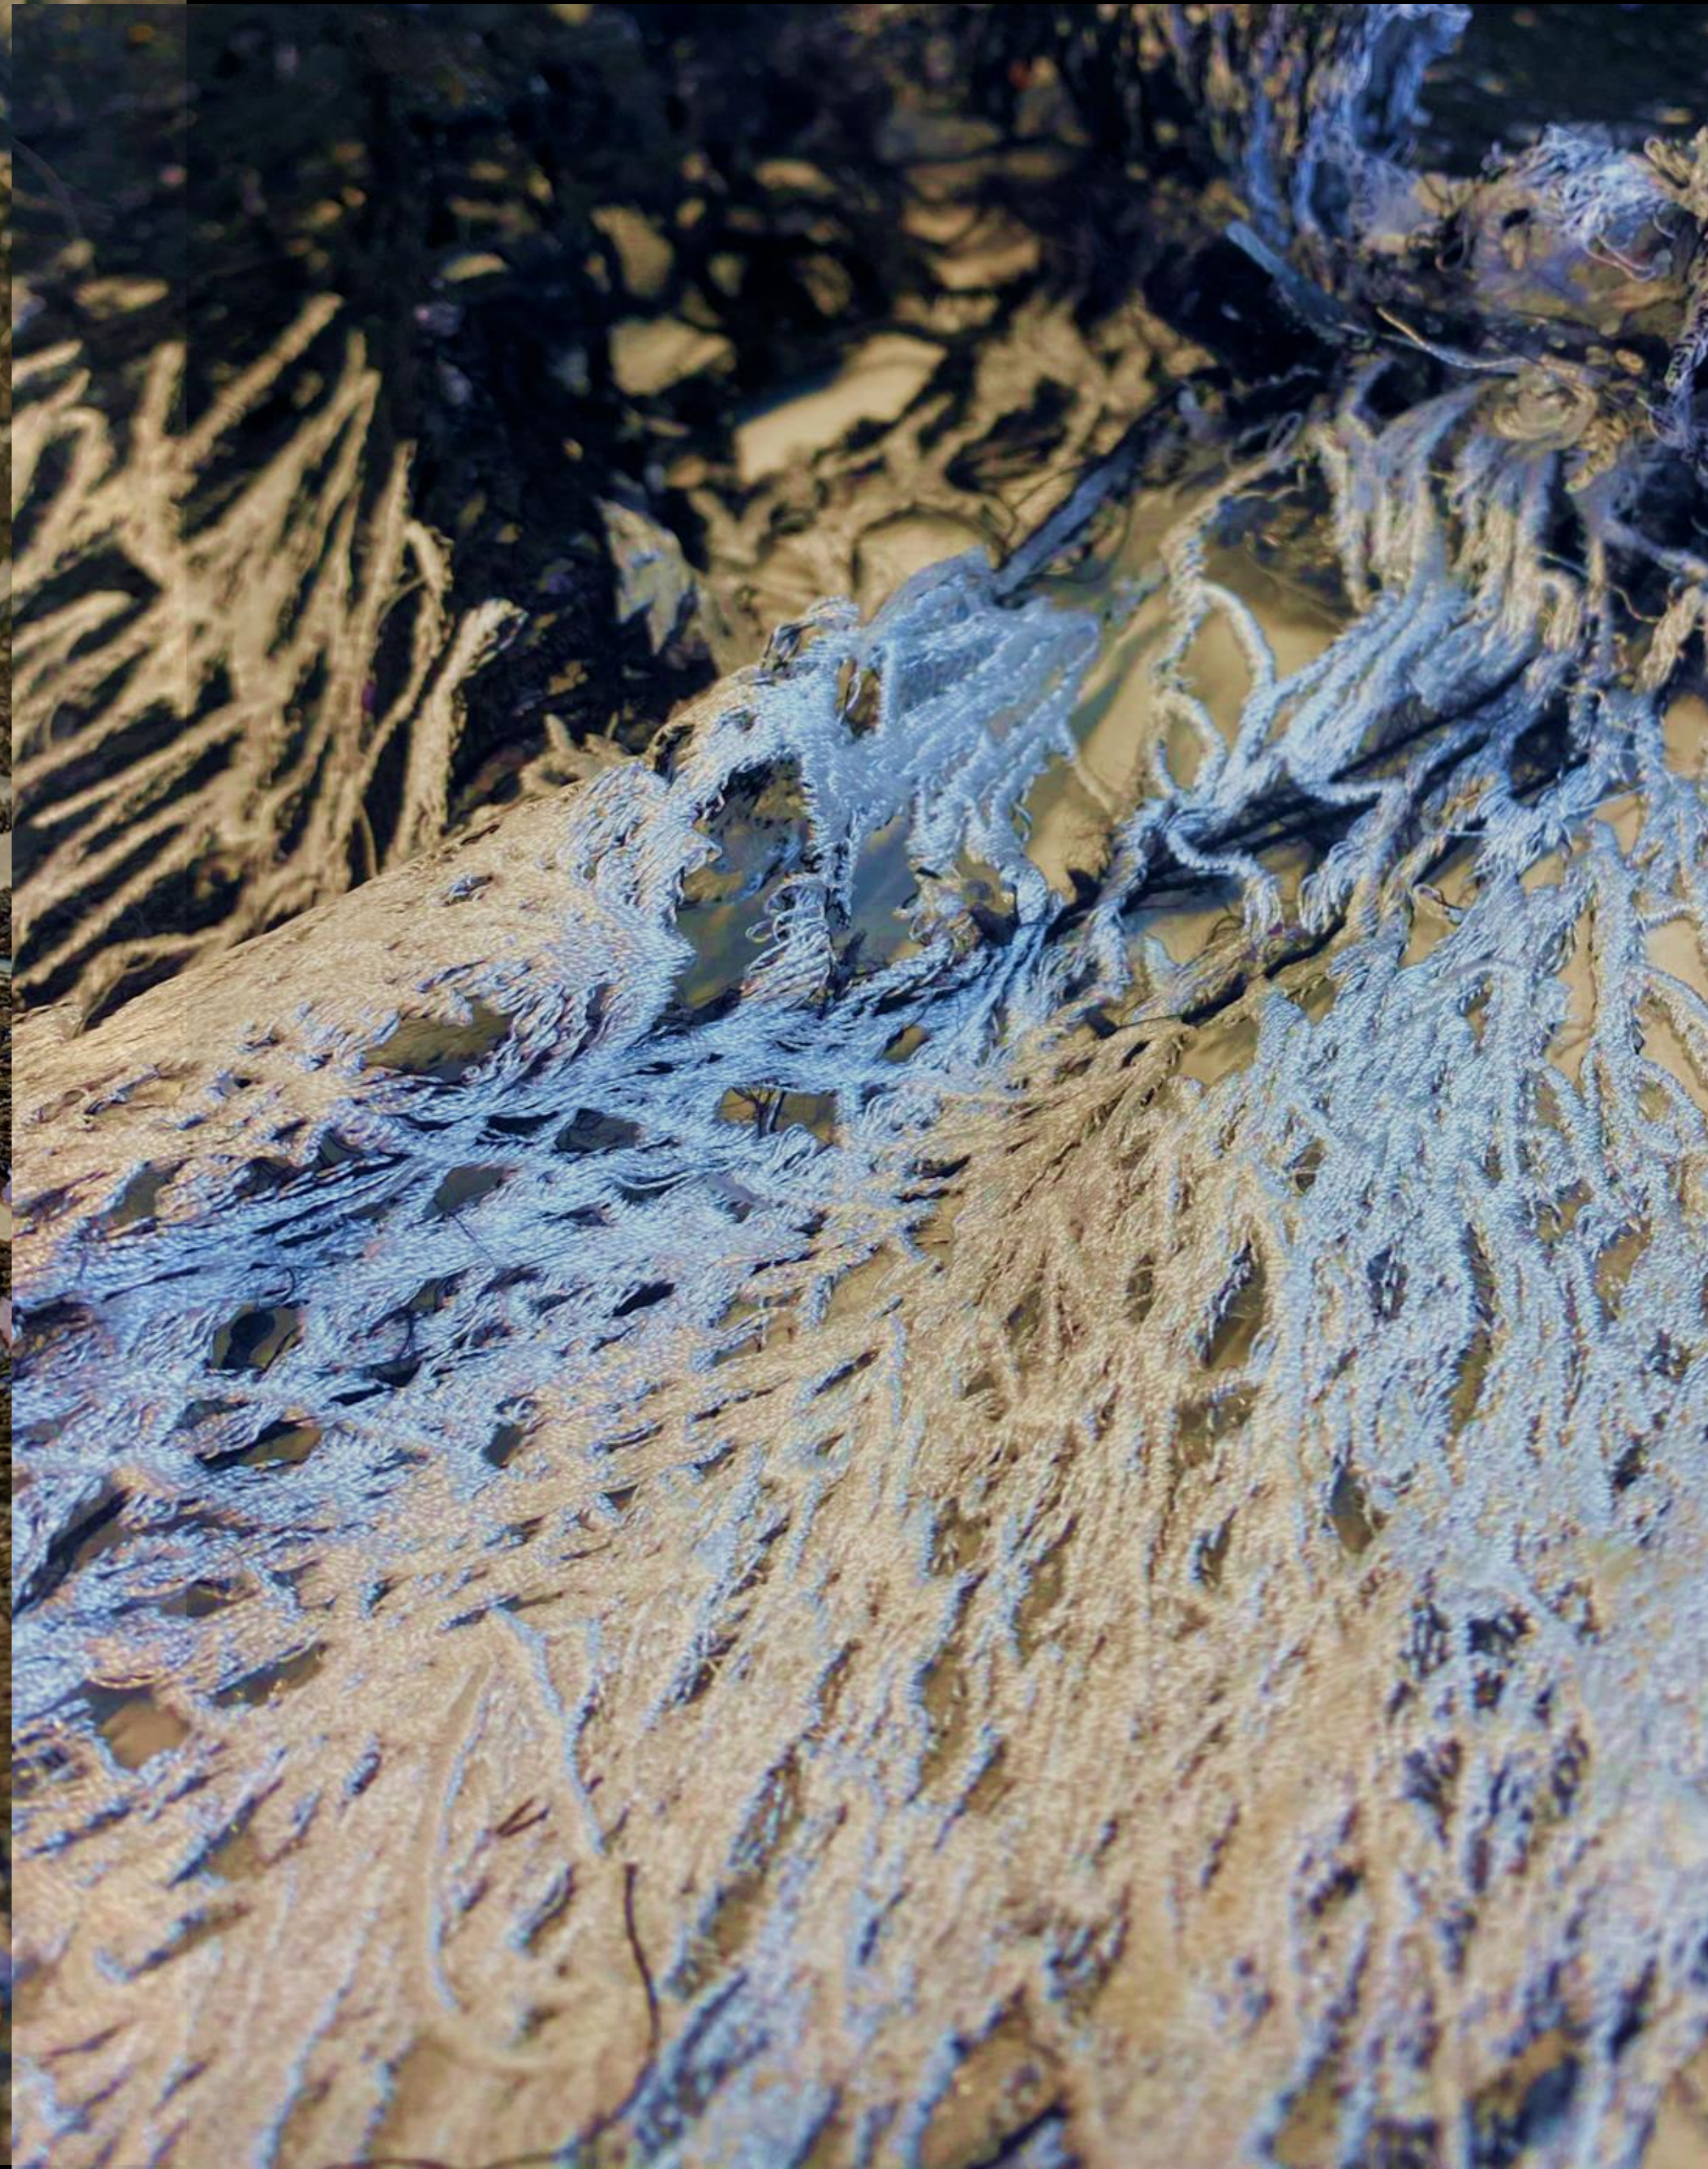

The skirt is a body-hugging pencil skirt, further enforcing the profile of the highly efficient profile.

FUTURE SELF, THE TRUTH

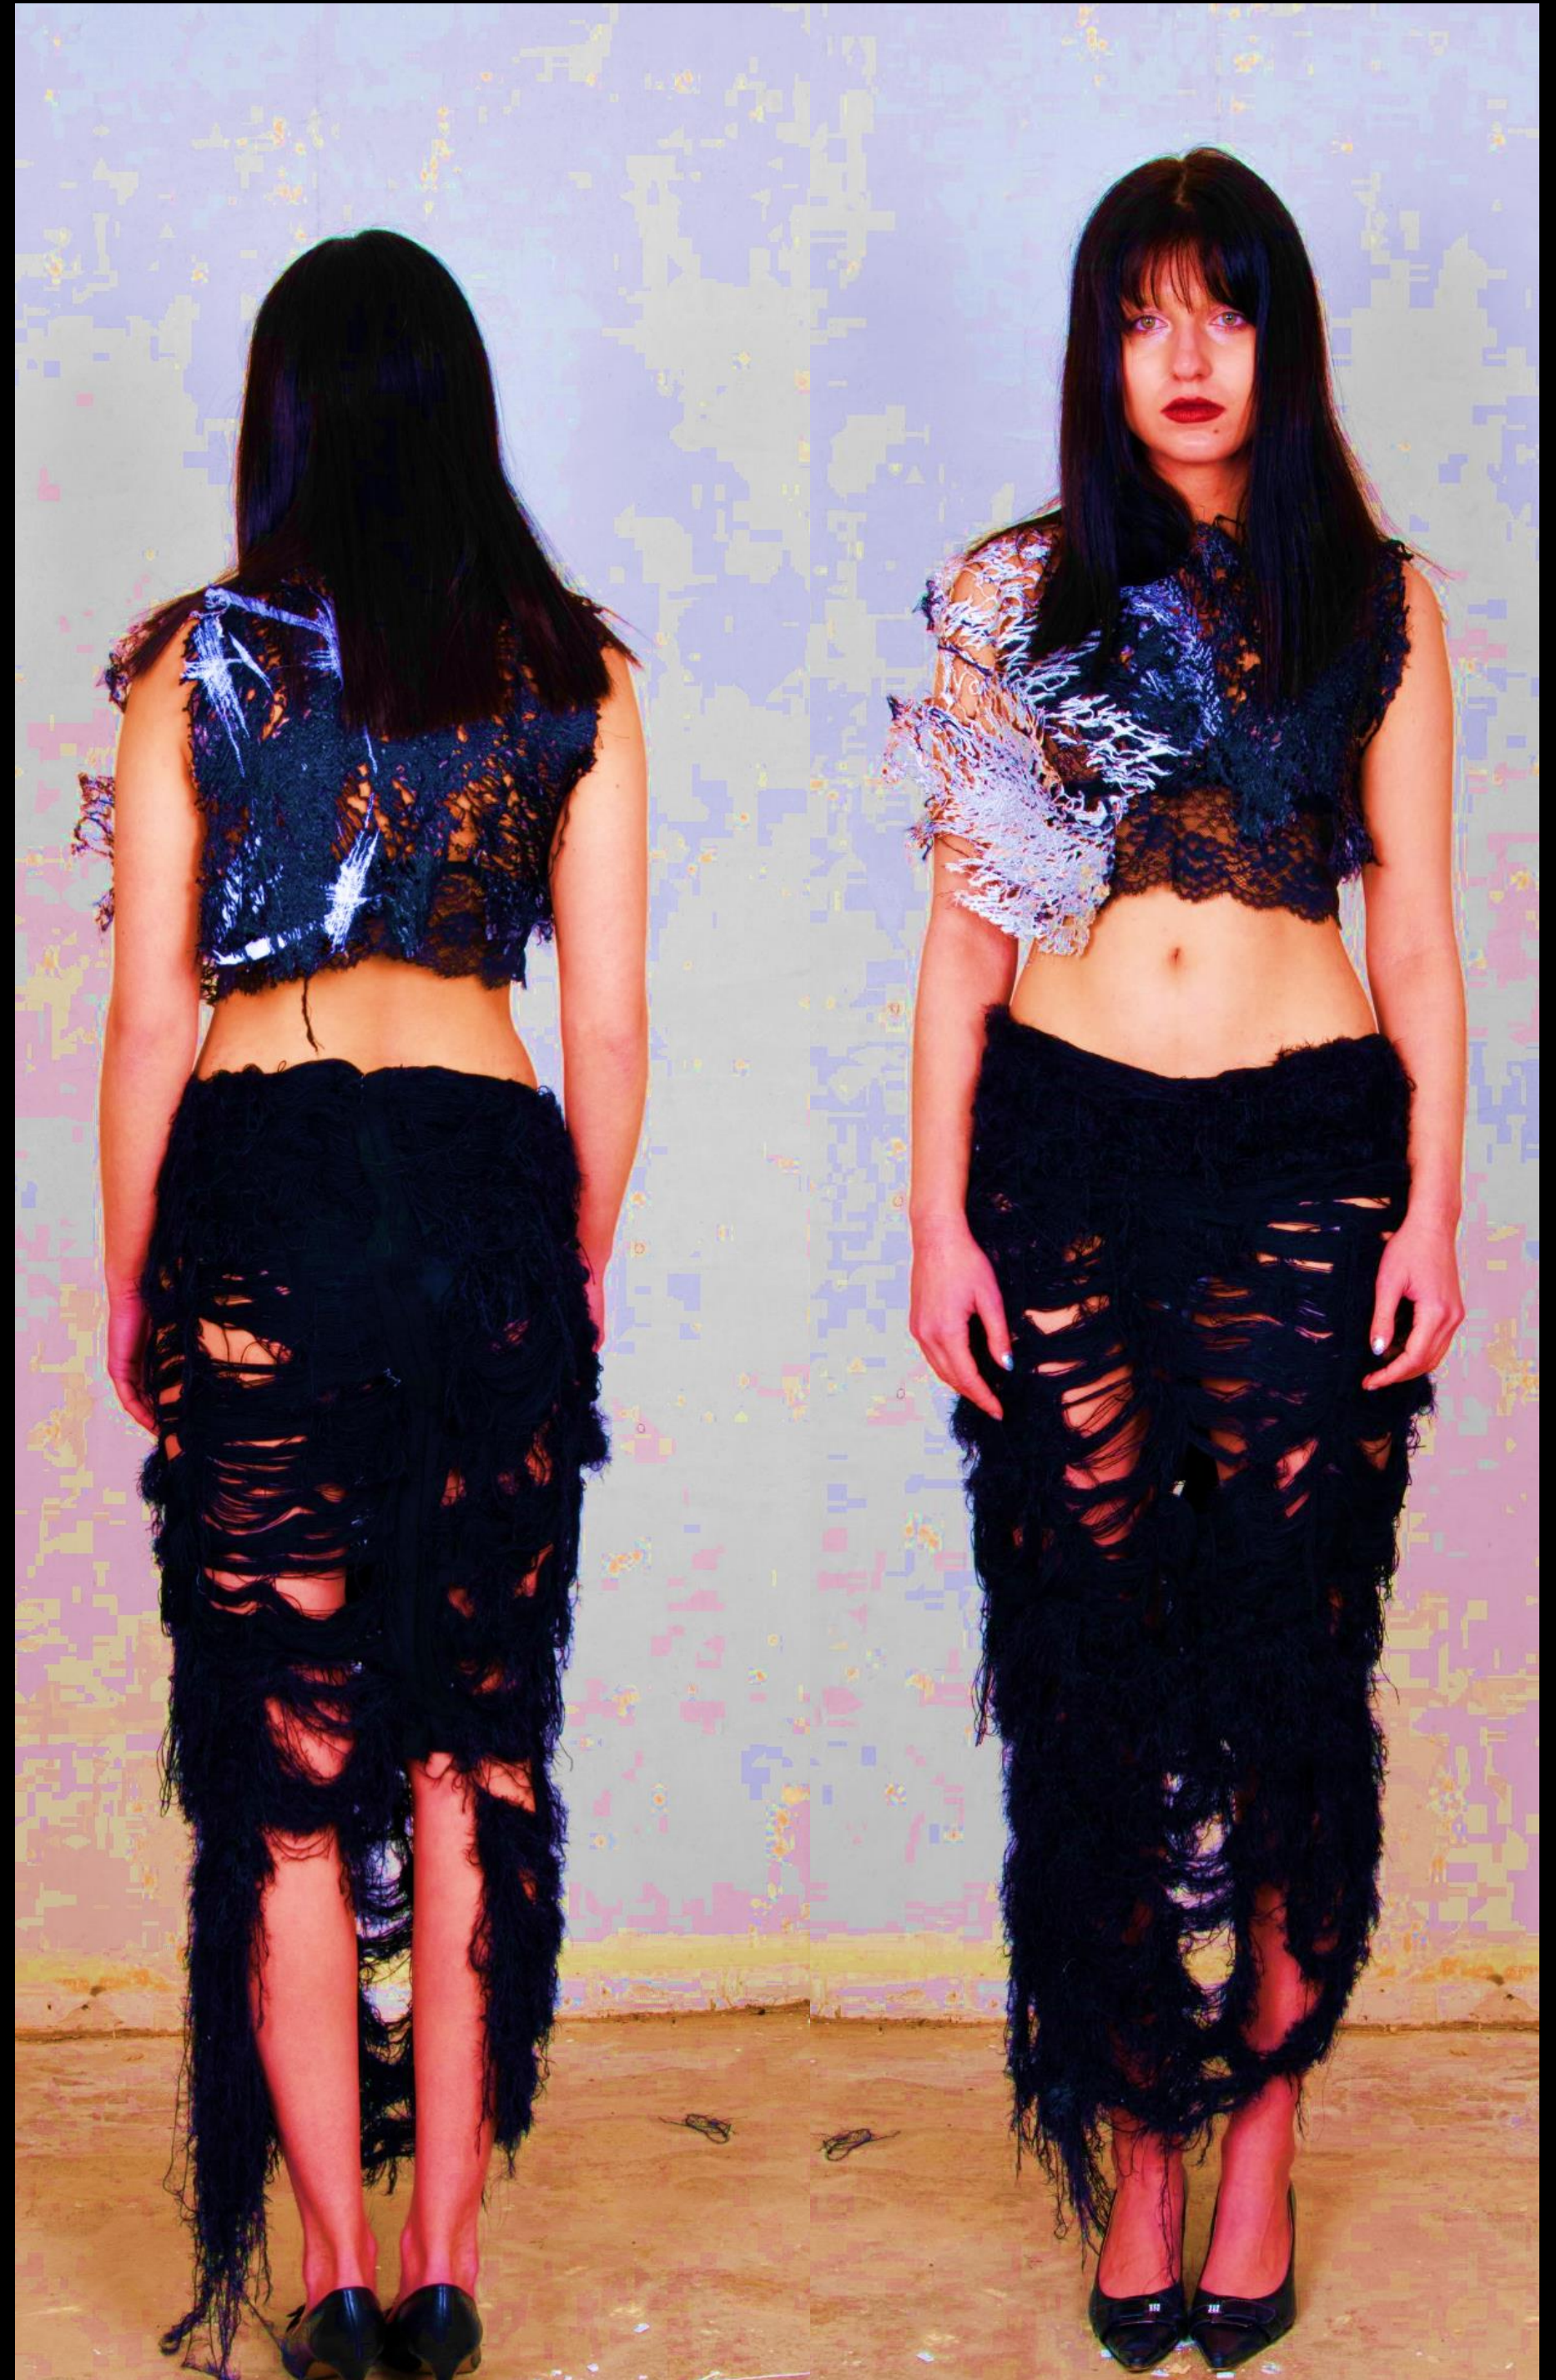

FRAYED, FRAGILE AND VULNERABLE. The FUTURE SELF walks in a different form. Recognizably decayed. How short is time of strength, and how agile is the shed of exterior.

FUTURE SELF THE TRUTH attire consists of a top that tells the full story. As FUTURE SELF has already, walked a similar (yet not identical path). The embroidery show a movement between the light into the darkness to be convoluted in the back by darkness. In a similar technique, the machine was stopped to create the strokes of white in a different form than the ongoing pattern. The strokes are sudden, violent, holding all the darkness together. Reference to VOID - FEMINIE back panel construction. The top garment narrates a circular story.

The top embroidery duration was identical to the FUTURE SELF' s breastplate. Creating a subtle relation. The shapes used in the embroidery of the top is a distorted version of the embroidery on FUTURE SELF' s breastplate, split into white and dark version.

The skirt is created by hand, in a similar technique to the back-panel of VOID - FEMININE. The base was created from cotton thread (to reference deterioration from the previous from of FUTURE SELF). The body of the skirt is created from mohair silk, laid around in an outwards movements, towards the hem where they separate into threads.

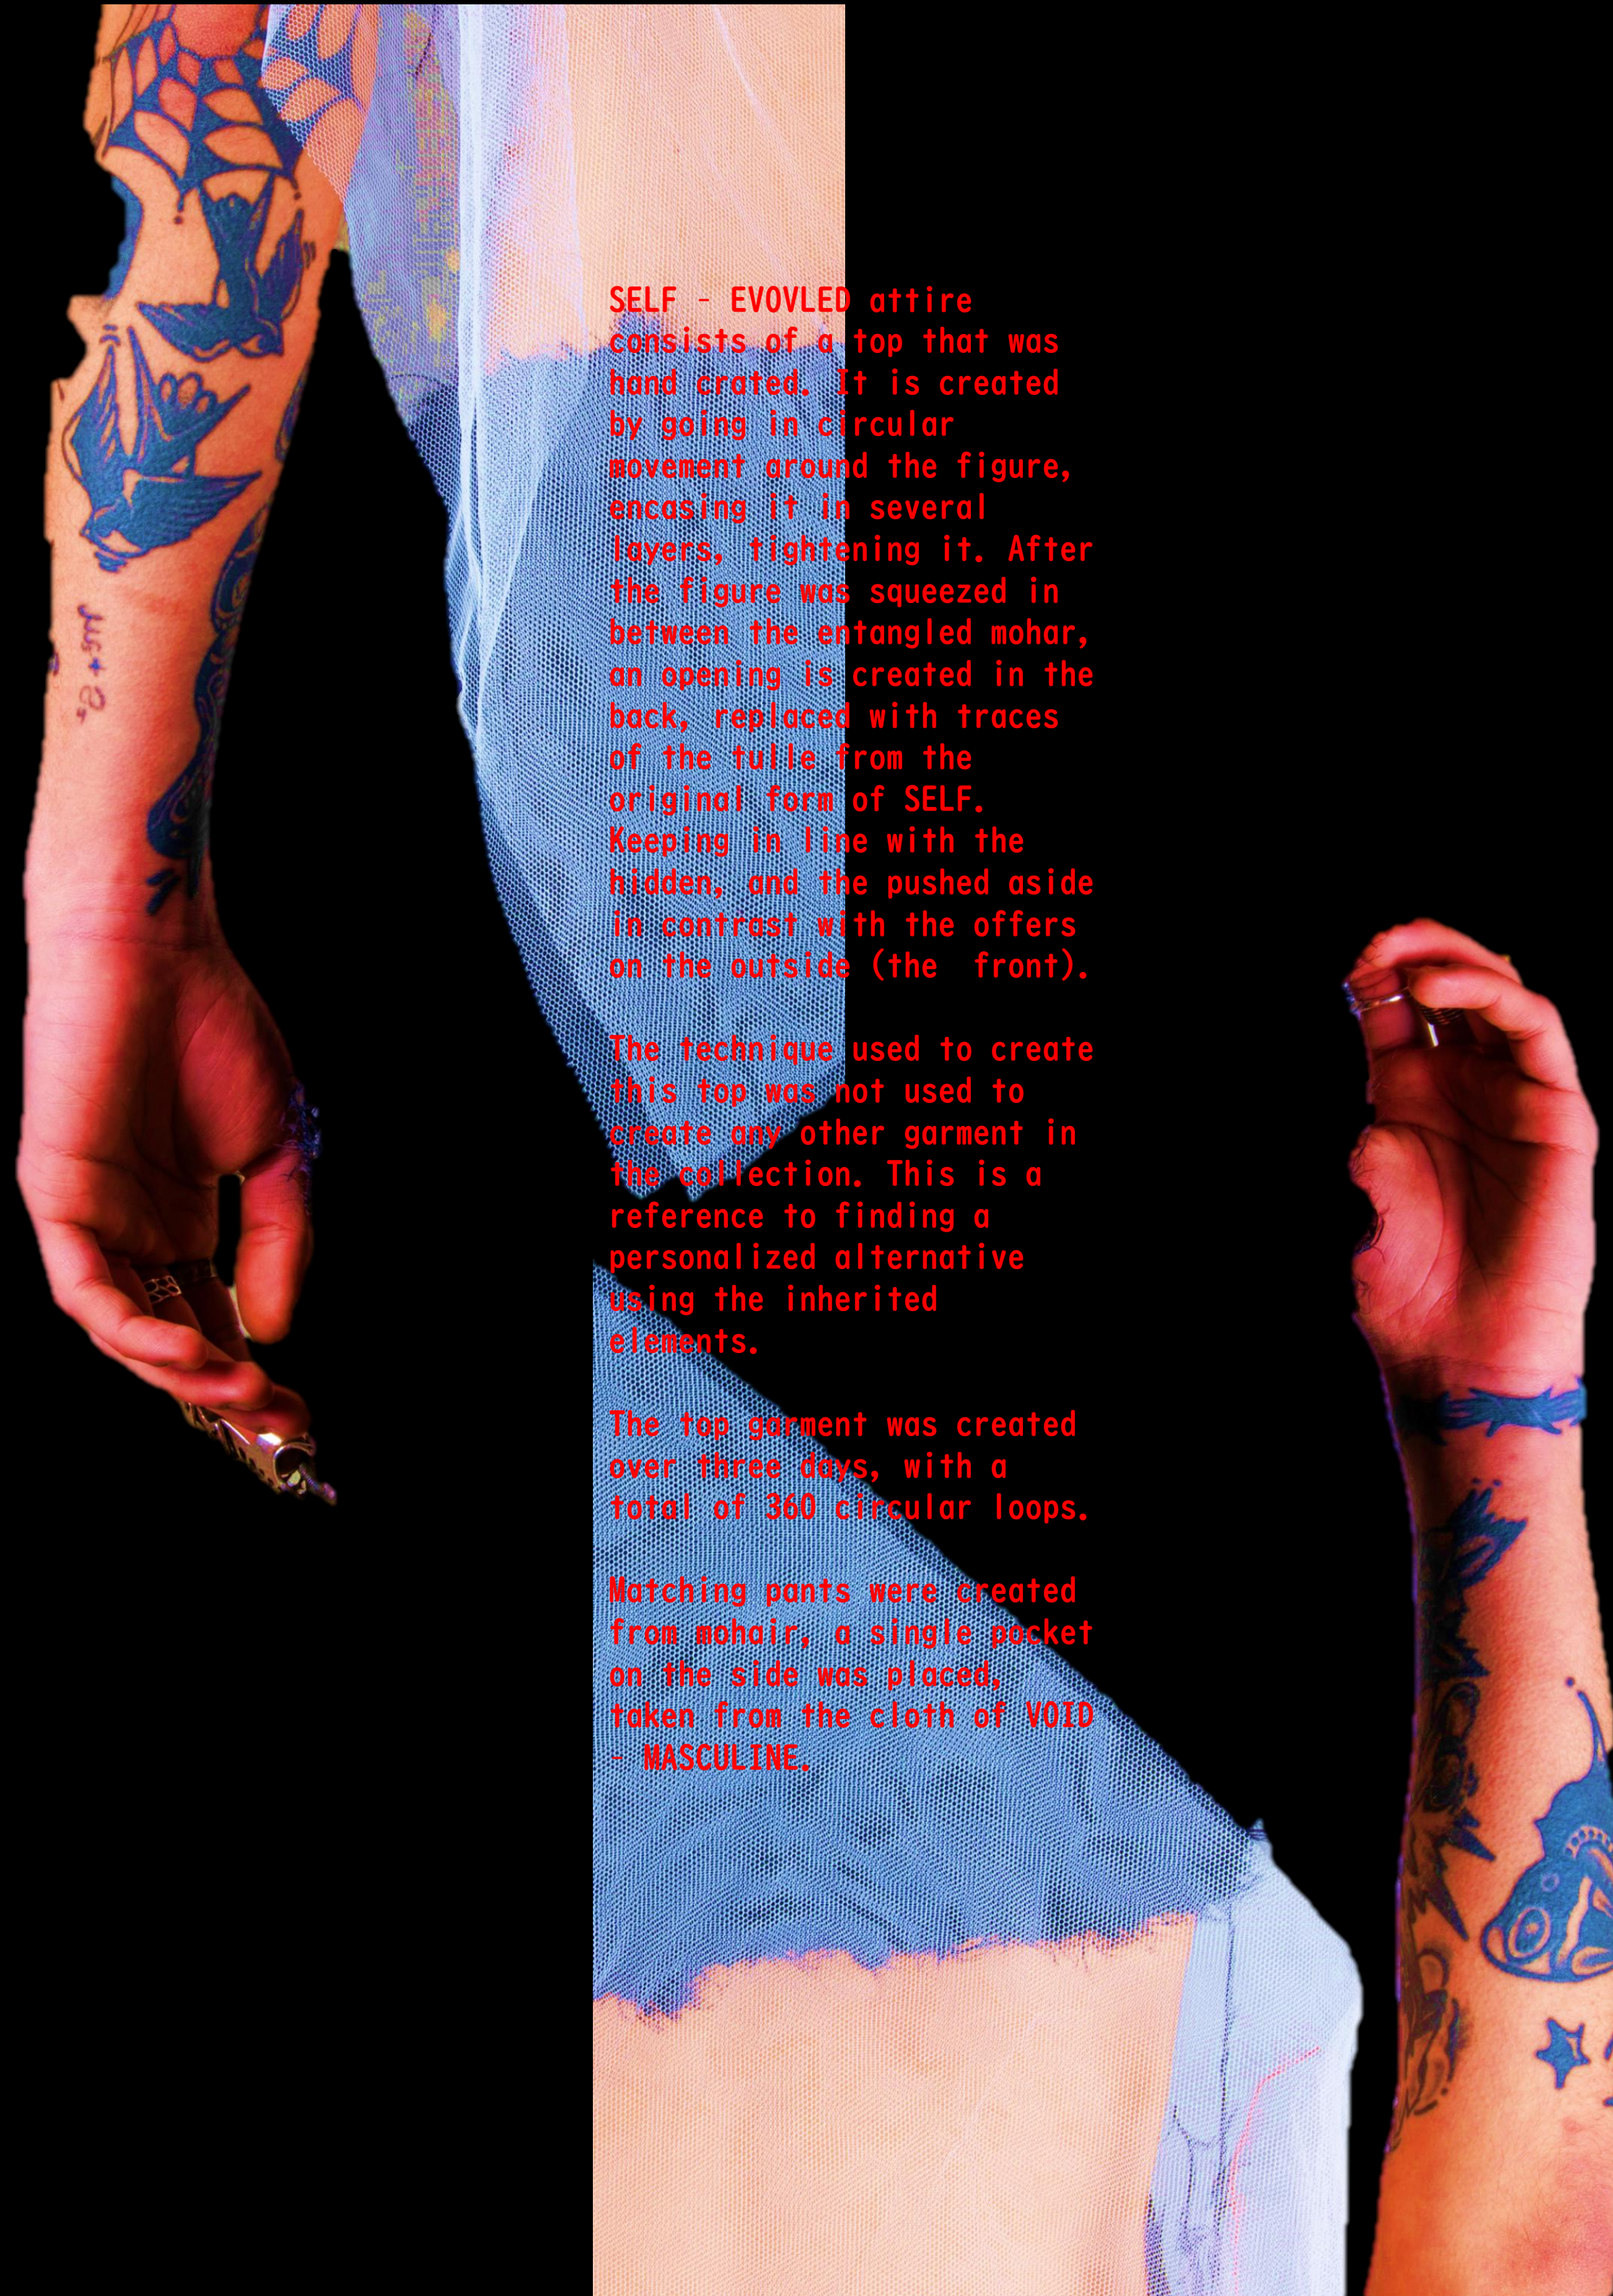

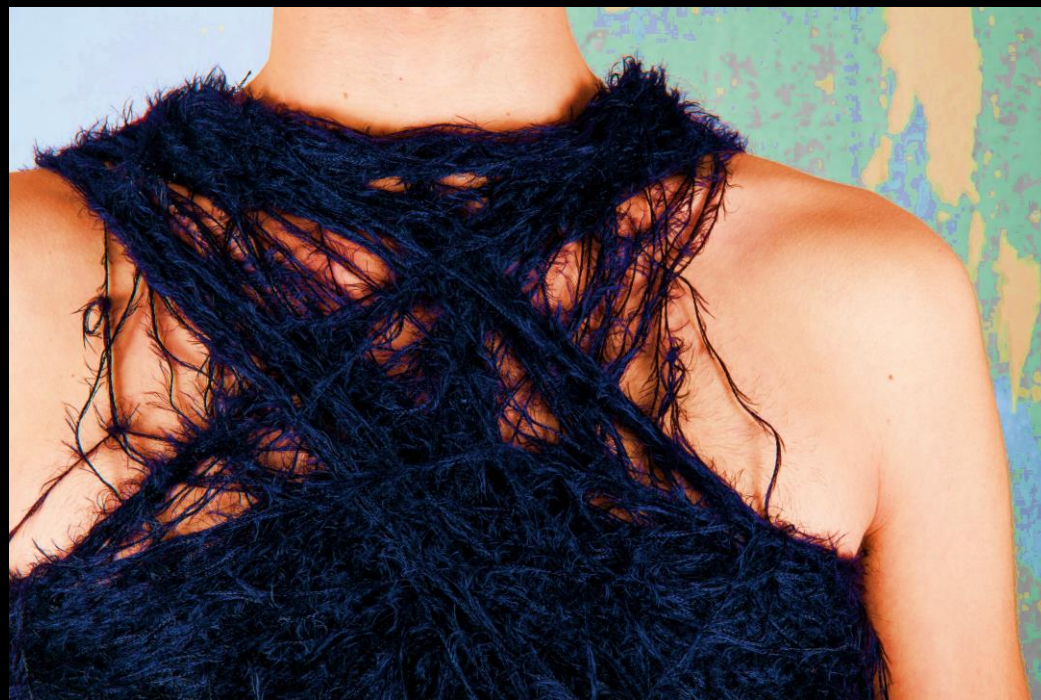

SELF - FINALE

TORN APART, WITH NO TRACE OF WHITE, SELF has evolved into a different form. Rejecting all forms offered, SELF stands in unique construction, paving a new alternative

SELF - EVOVLED attire consists of a top that was hand crated. It is created by going in circular movement around the figure, encasing it in several layers, tightening it. After the figure was squeezed in between the entangled mohar, an opening is created in the back, replaced with traces of the tulle from the original form of SELF. Keeping in line with the hidden, and the pushed aside in contrast with the offers on the outside (the front).

The technique used to create this top was not used to create any other garment in the collection. This is a reference to finding a personalized alternative using the inherited elements.

The top garment was created over three days, with a total of 360 circular loops.

Matching pants were created from mohair, a single pocket on the side was placed, taken from the cloth of VOID - MASCULINE.

SELF ELIMINATED A PAST VERSION. TAKING CONTROL.
